

ZLÍN REGION

ABOUT REGION

The Zlín Region is situated in the eastern part of Moravia along the Slovakian frontier. Otherwise it borders with regions South Moravia, Olomouc and Moravia-Silesia. It is divided among four districts: Kroměříž, Uherské Hradiště, Vsetín and Zlín. Its area is 3,963 km² (January 1, 2006), 5.0 % of the national territory, making it the 11th largest region in the country. On December 31, 2006 there were 589,839 inhabitants (5.7 % of the population of the Czech Republic, the 8th most populated region in the country). Its 304 communities make up for 4.9 % of all communities in the country. Zlín, with a population of 78,122, is the regional capital. There are 20 towns and cities with populations exceeding 5,000 in the region.

The Zlín Region is mountainous and very indented. Parts of two protected landscape areas are stretching to its territory, Beskydy and Bílé Karpaty. These mountains are sought after by tourists both in summer and in winter. Popularity in folk traditions is typical for this region. From among folklore events, taking place every year, there is Haná days in Chropyně, the Ride of Kings in Vlčnov, or Slivovitz Vintage days in Vizovice. Tourists also like the large area of the Valašské museum in nature (Rožnov pod Radhoštěm). There has also been growing interest in Baťa's boating channel in the last several years.

Religion has an important place in the life of local inhabitants. Velehrad belongs to the most important pilgrimage venues in the Czech Republic. The most valuable architectonic monuments are concentrated in Kroměříž, which is also the only town in the region with an urban sanctuary. The castle with its gardens is the only landmark registered on the UNESCO list in the region of Zlín. Luhačovice is the most important spa in the region and this town is also trying to get to the UNESCO list of the world heritage.

Tomáš Baťa University in Zlín (UTB) has five colleges with specializations in economy, arts, chemistry and informatics. A branch of the Mining University is located in Uherský Brod, offering studies in machinery and the local specializations of fire-arms and ammunition. The European Polytechnic Institute is the oldest private university in Moravia. Seated in Kunovice, it offers studies in economy, management and informatics. It has a branch in Hodonín as well.

In 2004 expenses on research and development in the Region Zlín reached Kč 1,333 per capita (11th place in the Czech Republic) and 0.32 % of all employees worked in research and development (10th place in the Czech Republic). It means that actually Kč 787 million were spent (11th place in the Czech Republic) and 1,895 people were working in research and development (10th place in the Czech Republic).
